Archbishop Ireland Has Words of Praise For Grand Old Order.

Traditions of the Isle of Saints Should Be Kept Alive.

Advices Countrymen to Be Equal to Opportunities Offered.

LOVE FOR THE AMERICAN FLAG

Last week mention was made of the magnificent reception tendered James J. Regan by the citizens of St. Paul in honor of his election to the National Presidency of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the stirring address of Archbishop John Ireland. After paying high tribute to the personal worth of President Regan and congratulating the Ancient Order on the wisdom of its selection, the Archbishop said:

I come cheerfully to this meeting to do honor to President Regan. I come also very cheerfully to show my regard for the Hibernians. But before I venture to speak of the Hibernians in general, I must in justice take this opportunity to say to the Hibernians of Minnesota that I feel very deeply indebted to them for their courteous and generous act in their late convention at Faribault when they said: "We are going to give $12,000 or $15,000 to the College of St. Thomas." Shall I say that I was astonished at what they did? Not a bit. I ought by this time to know the stuff of which Hibernians are made. They have their virtues. They may now and then have some faults, but one thing every one admits—their generosity for a good and noble cause. But apart from that great act, how much there is in the motives and movements of this association that I must admire, respect and love! The Hibernians have two propensities:

First—To keep alive the traditions of that beloved Isle played upon by the waters of the Atlantic sea, met by its waves as eastward they go. They have it for their purpose to keep before their own minds and the minds of their children the noble traditions, the sweet and strong virtues of which Ireland has been the theater for some 2,000 years.

Second—They have this other purpose: To encourage one another, to help one another to be worthy of the older traditions, to encourage and help one another to move forward, reaching out for that which is best and most beautiful in this land of America, their home today and the home of their children tomorrow.

Well may you love and cherish the traditions of the Isle of Saints. Yet I would not for a moment in-volve the traditions of the Hibernians of other lands and civilizations if, by so doing, I would weaken in the smallest degree our sense of duty to the Republic of the United States. I would not awake the memories of other lands and civilizations if I were to chill in the slightest manner our ardent love for the American flag and for all that it symbolizes. But with this declaration of loyalty to America, I would say remember the land of your forefathers, inhale from it the sweetest perfume it can give out and spread that perfume over the land of America.

And so let us from every land of which we are descendants keep in holy memory the great and good things of that land in order that we be today the better men, and in order that America may be that which I believe is its providential destiny, in moral and social citizenship, in governmental institutions, what it is in its fields, mountains, rivers and lakes—the first and best land over which has passed the hand of the great Creator. And so Hibernians would remember the days of old. They would remember the glories of Brian Boru, the valor of Sarsfield; they would recall the work of their beloved apostle and patron, St. Patrick; they would remind each other of the sages and scholars that went out from their beloved Isle to spread the light across the whole continent of Europe; they would remember the poets and bards whose harps gave out harmonies that still linger in the ears of the greatest artists. Oh, I could tell you of the heroes who on hundreds of battlefields, within our own Ireland and upon every land under the sun, showed themselves to be of the highest courage and valor—heroes whose names and glories would honor the brightest tablets of humanity in any land. But I must not venture far in recalling old memories, for the field is so vast, so inviting, so entrancing that I might be tempted to hold you too long. And moreover, the harp is unnecessary, for I am sure you have heard, often and often, from father and mother, from grandfather and grandmother, of the land of the buttercup and the daisy, of the land consecrated, every inch, by the blood of martyrs and valiant warriors fighting for Ireland. Surely you need not be ashamed that your ancestors came from the land of St. Patrick. It is a small island; and where could you stand upon the globe without hearing of it? Where you go without meeting those who will say, "We are from Ireland." America, this country, has a share of them. South America, down over the plains of the Argentine, has whole colonies of them. In Australia, New Zealand, the islands of the Pacific, the East Indies—they are there. And if you go to any land on the continent of Europe you will find there descendants of those who left Ireland high in position and honored by their fellow citizens. In the city of Paris they have each year a banquet of the ancient Irish, the descendants of those who bore the honored name of the "Wild Geese." And it is the same in Spain, in Austria, in Germany. Oh, they are everywhere, and they are one and all proud of the old land whence they sprung. And why should not Hibernians, then, keep its memory green?

And now as to the other proposition before you: To all work as Hibernians or other descendants of Ireland to be worthy of America. You are at home here. As Senator Clapp, a few moments ago, put it: "In Ireland you dreamed of liberty, here you enjoy it." Feel at home, but be worthy of the home. Watch one another and help one another so that none fall by the wayside, so that none be of whom old Ireland would be ashamed. Work to keep up the traditions and glories, work to keep up that invincible courage in maintaining your convictions before God, that adhesion to conscience which after three hundred years of persecution the like of which is unrecorded in any land, is as deep, as vigorous, and as resolute as on the first day of the battle. You are here in America side by side with the other nationalities. Welcome them; love them. They are with you fellow Americans and fellow Christians. I dislike very much that false spirit of adhesion to olden memories which would lead us to keep aloof from those who come to America from other lands. We should mingle with all of them and love them all, for they have come here as we have done—to build up a new nation. The memories of your own race should prompt you to love them all; for, when your forefathers were persecuted at home, they found friends and allies in nearly every one of the lands on the continent of Europe. Let the only battle which will put forth the strongest energy and do the best for ourselves, for America and for humanity.

This is true Irish patriotism. You have here the finest of fields. It is not the fault of America if you are not successful in life. Her gifts are abundant, her doors are open. Be ambitious and grasp the best that is going. Do not be satisfied with your present condition. The fault with Irishmen in America is that they do not look forward to tomorrow. For the sake of that land which you love, for its honor and for its glory, strive to be better. It was Sarsfield who said when dying on a foreign battlefield: "Oh, that this blood were shed for Ireland." Very well, if you can not shed your blood for Ireland, live for it, work for its honor, and thus you will be bringing honor on yourselves and the race. So if this is the purpose, and I know it is, of the Hibernians, it is a noble purpose, and I should be very glad to see tens of thousands of other descendants of Irishmen come forward and join hands with you and say: We will work with you for the old land, for the honor and glory of the Irish race in America.

HOT ONE.

Dr. Washington Gladden's Reply to Orange Insult.

Dr. Washington Gladden, who had been defending Roman Catholics against some slanders, received a letter from an Orangeman, saying that he (Dr. Gladden) ought to acknowledge that he is a Jesuit in disguise. Dr. Gladden thus characteristically replied to him:

"My Dear Sir—How did you find it out? It is marvelous—the enterprise of your fraternity. But you hadn't heard that I am to be the next pope, had you? Well, you'll hear that pretty soon. It's part of the bargain. But don't tell it till you are dead sure that it's so. There is another little piece of news that you'll be glad to get. Just as soon as I am elected Pope that massacre is going to begin which Leo ordered, you know, but which the faithful hadn't the backbone to carry out. Perhaps it was the holiness of the Mayor of Toledo that prevented it. But when I get there it's going through, sure pop. We have engaged the public gardens at Washington down by the Monument, and we are going to make a pile of corpses of Protestant ministers, in the form of a pyramid, higher than the top of that monument. It will take, according to my figures, 346,927 ministers to make this heap. There are not enough now in this country, but several new theological seminaries will be started at once (by the Jesuits, of course) to furnish the supply. We've got the railroads chartered to haul 'em from all parts of the country. Aren't you a minister yourself? Well, you'll be in it. I'll try to place a place near the top for you. Apex reserved for former adherents. And when the pile is complete, I'm going to mount to the top of it and sit there and howl! Now you just take this down to the next meeting of the council and read it to 'em. It'll thrill 'em, see. If anybody says he doesn't believe it, you know what's the matter with him—he's a Jesuit!"

SON IS ILL.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kehoe, of Jeffersonville, were much distressed Tuesday when they received news of the illness of their son, Russell Kehoe, at Haverhill, Ind., where he is attending college. The latest information was that his condition was not alarming, and brought relief to his many friends and relatives.

MONSTER

Demonstration Will Mark Close of Democratic Campaign Tonight

Prominent Men From All Sections Will Speak For Ticket.

Candidates For the School Commission Under False Colors.

PARADE FIFTEEN MILES LONG

The local Democratic campaign will close tonight with probably the longest parade ever seen in Louisville, and certainly the largest demonstration of any political party in the history of the city, conservative estimates placing its length at fifteen miles. The route of the parade will terminate in front of the Court House, where several speakings will be held. One in front of the Willard Hotel and one at each corner of the Court House yard. Among the speakers will be Hon. Joe Blackburn, Hon. A. S. Burleson, Congressman from Texas, Congressman Ollie James, Senator Thomas H. Paynter, Hon. W. P. Kimball, Hon. John R. Allen, Judge Frank Peak, James P. Edwards, Norton Goldsmith, Scott Bullitt, Jacob Sollinger, Wheeler Campbell, Charles F. Taylor, Clem Higgins, Joseph Huffaker, Judge Shackelford Miller, Swager Shuler, and others. With this formidable array of orators and this big parade the Democrats will, one which will prove that the voters of Jefferson county have turned their backs on the Republican party.

The closing week of the campaign has brought out two interesting features, one that either all of our present Judges on the bench are very careless with the truth or that the ex-Democrat, Hunter Ross, who failed of election as Bond Recorder, is a wonderful fabricator. In plain words, whose statement will be accepted first—that of Hunter Ross or the signed statement of Judge Lincoln, Judge Gordon, Judge Gregory, Judge Field, Judge Weissinger and Judge Boldrick? Of course the latter statement will not be accepted by the Evening Post, as that could hardly be expected.

In its last issue the Kentucky Irish American called attention to the fact that the Herald and Post accused John Whalen of trying to bring politics into the schools, but as a whole the members of the A. P. A. ticket, who are trying to bring religion in the schools and who believe that, though the Catholics pay their pro rata of the school taxes, they should have no voice in the government of the schools. This ticket, known as the non-partisan ticket, held a meeting in the Scottish Rite Cathedral last Friday night and adopted resolutions condemning Catholics for daring to want a voice in the school government. A letter was read from the Rev. Leonard Doolan, endorsing their ticket, the substance of which was to boycott their fellow-Catholic voters. The Rev. Doolan is the same minister who led the fight for prohibition in the Highlands some time ago and was the cause of a good deal of bitterness between the good people in that section. Ministers like Doolan should not be taken seriously, as they depend on politics, prohibition or anti-Catholic crusades for their livelihood. Several good citizens who were roped to the meeting under false pretenses were quick to denounce the object of the leaders. For the benefit of those who don't know, here is the ticket which was designated by Dr. Bloom as the A. P. A. ticket: Dr. George B. Simpson, Edward Gottschalk, Dr. George B. Jenkins, Dr. A. B. Weaver and George W. Steffy. Stick a pin in this list and watch how far down they will run, proving that the good people of Louisville are on to their curves.

JOHN BUTLER DEAD.

Though not unexpected, the news of the death on Monday of John Butler, son of Deputy Assessor Martin J. Butler, 1845 Baird street, was a shock to his wide circle of friends and acquaintances. For the past six months the deceased had been a sufferer from a complication of diseases, but was fully prepared and ready when called into eternity. John Butler was twenty-one years old, a dutiful son and a genial disposition won the friendship of all whom he met. Besides his parents three brothers and six sisters survive him. The funeral took place Wednesday morning from St. Patrick's, Rev. Father Cronin, V. G., being the celebrant of the solemn mass of requiem.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES.

St. Paul's church, at Jackson and Kentucky streets, was the scene of impressive and beautiful ceremonies Wednesday morning, All Souls' day, when a class of about sixty had the happiness of approaching the altar and receiving their first holy communion from the hands of their pastor and instructor, Rev. Thomas Kibbe. The sanctuary was tastefully decorated for the occasion and the altar was ablaze with myriads of lights. In a feeling but eloquent manner Father York called attention to the graces conferred upon them and adjoined his young friends to offer their holy communion for the repose of the souls of their departed friends.

DEATH

Brings to Close a Young Life of Great Promise.

One of the saddest events in the history of St. Francis College at Cincinnati was the death of one of its most popular and amiable young students, George Hildesheim, the fifteen-year-old son and only child of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hildesheim, prominent members of St. Paul's parish, this city. The news of his death was a shock to all who knew him. After having served mass Saturday morning, October 22, George was taken ill and soon became unconscious. At once doctors were summoned and a dispatch sent his parents. It was declared an attack of meningitis, which baffled medical skill. In the evening the stricken youth was removed to St. Mary's Hospital, where all possible care and attention were paid him, especially by his loving parents and the Rev. P. Rector, who were at his side until the bitter end. All day Sunday he lay unconscious. Masses and funeral services were held at St. Paul's church, that if it were his holy will he might spare the loved one. Monday morning he regained consciousness, and with child-like simplicity and wanted devotion received the last sacrament. He lingered until night, when God was pleased to send the Angel of Death to call home the beautiful, innocent soul.

On Tuesday morning the corpse was taken to the college chapel, where a solemn requiem was sung by Rev. P. Urban, assisted by Rev. P. Basil, Rev. P. Valentine and Frater Placidus. In glowing words Rev. P. Egbert paid a loving tribute to the deceased's memory; it was, as he said, a beautiful close to a beautiful life.

The corpse was then transferred to Louisville, accompanied by the sorrowing parents. On Thursday the funeral took place from their home, 1273 Preston street, to St. Paul's church, where Rev. Father York sang a solemn requiem, assisted by Revs. P. Urban, Murray and Ackermann. Eight students from the college acted as pall-bearers. After mass the corpse was taken to the family lot in St. Michael's cemetery, where the last rites of the church having been performed, all that was mortal of "the child of our affection" was lowered into the grave, there to await the final summons. The deceased was born in Louisville in 1895. Having finished the parochial school he entered St. Francis College, this city, where he endeared himself alike to his professors and fellow students. In 1909 he entered St. Francis College at Cincinnati to prepare himself for holy priesthood in the Franciscan order. Here as elsewhere his sterling traits of character won for him the love and admiration of all. In him his parents lose a dutiful son, his pride and hope; St. Francis College a promising student; his friends and associates a pleasant and exemplary companion; but all gain a friend and intercessor in heaven.

REUNION.

Hibernians Will Entertain in Honor of P. H. Callahan.

Division 1, A. O. H., will entertain the Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary and their friends at a social school to be held at St. John's College, this city, where he endeared himself alike to his professors and fellow students. In 1909 he entered St. Francis College at Cincinnati to prepare himself for holy priesthood in the Franciscan order. Here as elsewhere his sterling traits of character won for him the love and admiration of all. In him his parents lose a dutiful son, his pride and hope; St. Francis College a promising student; his friends and associates a pleasant and exemplary companion; but all gain a friend and intercessor in heaven.

DIPLOMA FOR SISTER.

Mrs. Mary J. Quinn, 1721 Baird street, has returned from Joplin, Mo., where she attended the commencement exercises of St. John's Training School for Nurses on October 26. Among the graduates was Sister Mary Alphonse, a Kentucky girl, who received high honors and will be stationed at St. John's Hospital.

FEDERATION.

The regular monthly meeting of the Jefferson County Catholic Federation will be held at the Catholic Woman's Club next Thursday night. President Sheridan and Secretary Kelly have arranged for the largest attendance in the history of the Federation and have sent invitations to all Catholic societies. Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue will visit the Federation that evening, when he will have the pleasure of meeting him for the first time. The Bishop will also deliver an address.

ABSURED.

Redmond Has Not Deserted Parnell's Home Rule Standard.

Irish Party Little Affected by Factionist and Unionist Ravings.

Will Not Tolerate Any Postponement of Demands Made.

APPROVE THE IRISH ATTITUDE

The Dundalk Democrat, always conservative and reliable, declares that a good deal of ink has been wasted, many reams of fair white paper blackened in vain, and much oratory unprofitably squandered over the alleged desertion of Parnell's home rule standard by John Redmond. Readers of the daily press during the past two or three weeks will not need to be reminded of the origin of all this. It has been kept before them with exceeding diligence. Letters and articles and speeches galore have been written, printed and uttered to the end that Redmond the traitor (!) should be properly unmasked. The Tory press and the factionists had no other theme; and sundry innocent people were beginning to fear that something real was behind it all, and that the flag had been hauled down a little and the Nationalist demand whittled away to meet the views of English politicians.

The bulk of the Nationalist body, staunch adherents of the Irish party and convinced believers in the honesty and sagacity of its leaders, were little affected by the ravings of the factionist and Unionist orators and writers; but even they were relieved when the daily papers published Redmond's telegram repudiating the alleged interview. The absurdity of the suggestion that the Irish leader would have selected an American platform to announce the watering-down of the Irish demand was sufficiently patently Redmond's own speeches at the opening of the present mission to the States spoke for themselves. Nevertheless the alleged interview issued to the world with so much circumstance by the London Express called for explicit repudiation. Redmond states that his "interview" saw him in his hotel for two minutes, that the latter took no notes of the interview, that he asked for a "definition of home rule," and was referred to an article written by Redmond in the current issue of an American magazine. It is unnecessary to quote from that article, since the Tory press admits that it enunciates no new principle and leaves the writer and his party on the question of home rule, in Redmond's own words, "precisely where Parnell stood." To put the matter beyond doubt Redmond lays down the position in these words:

"Our minimum demand is for an Irish Parliament with an Executive responsible to it, with full control over all purely Irish affairs. This is the definition of home rule to which the English Prime Minister and the entire Liberal party stand pledged, and is our minimum. As for what is called 'home rule all round' or a general system of federation, of course if England, Scotland and Wales desire to have Parliaments under a federated system, Ireland would have no objection, and I think would agree that our new home rule constitution should be of such a character as would fit into a general system of federation later on, but it must be understood that we can not in Ireland wait until England, Scotland and Wales have made up their minds to get home rule for themselves. Home rule for Ireland must come first. We will not tolerate any postponement of the question or any watering-down of our demands."

It is a rather curious commentary on the implied deal between the Irish party and the Liberals that the Liberal press approves and welcomes the pronouncement of Redmond. The "Federal home rule" mare's nest was the exclusive discovery of the Tory-Factionist coalition. Redmond was supposed to have whittled down his demands and agreed to take his place in "home-rule-all-round" campaign. And now that Redmond repudiates anything of the kind the Liberal press entirely approves of his attitude. The Daily Chronicle says that "Redmond rightly claims priority for Irish home rule; and no Liberal will dispute that claim. Neither Scotland nor Wales has suffered as Ireland has from long years of oppression, injustice and misgovernment. Ireland can not wait until England, Scotland and Wales have made up their minds; and no true Liberal would shelve the home rule question pending a scheme of federation he must now feel that such a course is impracticable. It is only right to add that there is absolutely no evidence that such an idea ever was entertained.

The moral of the incident seems to us to be that Irish Nationalists by their unwavering support of the Irish party and their single-minded devotion to the political principles laid down by Parnell and Davitt, have brought the home rule question very near to solution; and that they have only to keep together, stick to their organization and their trusted leaders, and refuse to follow the political will-o'-the-wisps of the moment, and the early realization of their hopes may be very confidently predicted.

INVADERS

Gave Henry Hunold the Surprise of His Life Sunday.

Henry Hunold, the successful grocer at Sixth and Walnut, was given the surprise of his life last Sunday. About 4 o'clock Mr. Hunold was aroused from his afternoon siesta to find his handsome apartments invaded and himself surrounded by a number of his friends, headed by Henry Seibel and Col. Joe P. McGinn, who had assembled to extend congratulations and wish him and his wife and daughters a long and happy life in their new home. Before Mr. Hunold had recovered from his surprise he was surrounded by his friends, while Col. McGinn presented him a large and handsome bronze clock, one of Klauber's most costly importations, and a representation of a beautiful scene in the Fatherland. Mr. Hunold was over-come and could only turn to his wife and daughters, who did their part most charmingly. For an hour there were violin and piano solos by Misses Minnie and Marie Hunold and James S. Burns and a pleasing quintette by Joe McGinn, Harry Veneman, Will Meehan, Michael Reichert and Henry Gotthardt. At this point Mrs. Hunold invited all to the dining room and assisted by Mrs. James S. Burns, Mrs. George Frey, Mrs. Henry Gotthardt and Mrs. Harry Parfitt served a most tempting supper to Messrs. Joseph P. McGinn, Henry Seibel, Edward Ratterman, Joseph Reichert, Will Quinlan, John J. Crotty, Will T. Meehan, J. H. McEvoy, Harry Veneman, D. T. Wimsatt, Albert Roth, Clarence Hayden, Henry Gotthardt and George Frey. The occasion was one that will ever remain a pleasant memory to all the participants.

WARM FINISH

Will Mark Mackin Council's Membership Contest.

There was not the usual attendance at the meeting of Mackin Council on Monday night, owing to the fact that it was Halloween night and the members were engaged in its celebration. Notwithstanding this seven additional applications for membership were received, narrowing the contest now in progress, which promises to develop into a warm finish and bring the membership up to 500. The contest will close November 20 and will be a red letter day in the history of the local Y. M. I. In the morning the members of Mackin and candidates will attend high mass at St. Anthony's church and receive holy communion in a body. Beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the initiation will take place, when the winning team will be announced. A fitting climax will be the banquet at the Galt House in the evening in honor of the new members, their proposers and the rival teams. The invitation of the Social Club to the complimentary dance Thursday night was accepted, and all were urged to attend the joint meeting to be held Monday night under the auspices of Trinity Council.

ST. PATRICK'S.

Dominicans Will Conduct a Mission Lasting Two Weeks.

The Rev. J. B. O'Connor, O. P., and the Rev. V. G. Cleary, two most able and eloquent preachers, will open a two weeks' mission at St. Patrick's church, Thirteenth and Market, beginning Sunday, November 20, with a solemn high mass to be sung by the pastor, Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G. The devotions for the first week will be exclusively for women, those of the second week exclusively for men. Special exercises and lectures will be arranged for the intermediates and children. The time and nature of these latter will be announced during the mission. It has been a number of years since St. Patrick's congregation has had a mission and this announcement will be received with enthusiasm. This will also be the first mission given in the city by the Dominican Mission Band, recently stationed here, with headquarters at the Dominican convent, under the Rev. J. B. O'Connor. The hours of services will be the same at all other missions.

FIFTY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weisenberger, old and respected residents of New Albany, last Saturday celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, and were tendered a joyous reception at their home, 938 North State street. In the morning they attended St. Mary's church, where the mass in honor of their golden wedding was celebrated by the Rev. Father William Seiberitz.

MONUMENT

To Gen. James Shields Will Be Unveiled Saturday November 13.

Stands Over Grave of Brave Soldier, Patriot and Statesman.

First Ever Erected to Irishman by the United States.

CEREMONIES TO BE IMPRESSIVE

On Saturday, November 13, in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery at Carrollton, Mo., a bust of Gen. James Shields will be unveiled over the grave of the Irish soldier, patriot and statesman. This is the first monument ever erected to an Irishman by the Government of the United States, though the Barry monument to the "Father of the Navy" is under construction and is soon to be completed. The contract for the execution of the work was given by the Secretary of War to Jerome Connor, a distinguished young sculptor of Irish birth, now of Washington, D. C. Mr. Connor is a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and a native of the County Kerry, Ireland. He came to America at an early age and attended school in Massachusetts. He studied his profession mostly in America, but traveled abroad extensively, and has acquired artistic ability of a high order. His bust of Gen. Shields has been pronounced a superb piece of modeling by many of his brother artists, and is the first work in sculpture to be approved by the National Commission of Fine Arts, created by the last Congress, the members of which were selected by President Taft.

Mr. Connor's bust of Gen. Shields is four times life size, and one of the largest portrait busts in the United States. It will surmount a polished granite pedestal ten feet high, bearing the insignia of the United States on the face of the die and the following inscriptions:

Gen. James Shields,
Born in County Tyrone, Ireland,
May 10, 1819;

Died in Ottumwa, Iowa, 1879.
On each side of the die will be carved the names of the principal battles in which Gen. Shields took part in the Mexican and civil wars, and on the back will appear a bronze tablet containing the seals of the States of Illinois, Minnesota and Missouri, which the General represented in the Senate of the United States. The monument will be set in place over the grave of the General in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery at Carrollton, Mo., and the unveiling and dedication will take place under the auspices of the United States Government, the Commercial Club of the Carrollton, the Grand Army of the Republic of Missouri and Kansas and the Irish societies of Minnesota, Illinois and Missouri.

It is expected that addresses will be delivered at the unveiling by Archbishop Ireland, National President Hon. J. J. Regan of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in America, Gen. Warren Kiefer, of Ohio, and representatives from the National Government and the State Governments of Illinois, Minnesota and Missouri. United States troops from Fort Leavenworth and State troops of Missouri will participate, as well as large delegations from Irish organizations and the Grand Army of the Republic.

The monument will be erected under the personal supervision of the sculptor, and it is expected that the venerable widow of Gen. Shields, accompanied by her son, Dr. Daniel F. Shields, of New York, will attend the dedication ceremonies. The bust of Gen. Shields is four feet six inches high by two feet ten inches across the shoulders. A half dozen army officers who knew Gen. Shields have pronounced the bust a true likeness of the brave and intrepid Irish soldier, who by his bravery and statesmanship has reflected so much credit upon Ireland and her people.

The erection of the monument over the grave of Gen. Shields is largely due to the unselfish and patriotic efforts of Hon. W. W. Rucker, a member of Congress from Missouri, assisted by his colleagues from that State in the National House and Senate. It is understood that Mr. Rucker has arranged with the sculptor for a replica of the bust in plaster, which he intends to present to the public library of Carrollton, Mo., and it is also said that Hon. Patrick F. Gill, member of Congress from St. Louis, intends presenting a replica of the bust in plaster to the Gen. Shields Club of St. Louis.

LEBANON WEDDING.

Invitations have been received here to the wedding of Miss Florence E. Roney and Eugene J. Lancaster, which will be solemnized with a nuptial mass at St. Augustine's church on Tuesday, November 15. The bride-elect is the highly accomplished and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Roney. Mr. Lancaster is one of the leading men of Marion county and comes from a widely known and respected family. The wedding will be the society of the season in Lebanon, and will be attended by friends of the happy couple from many parts of the State.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES

SWAGAR SHERLEY,
For Congress.

SHACKLEFORD MILLER,
For Appellate Judge

WHY NOT NOW?

In Monday morning's Courier-Journal one reads that the Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell advises against fighting the Roman Catholic church. Was it not for doing this very thing that the learned Doctor gave such fulsome praise to Martin Luther? If it was all right to fight the church then, why not now? It is the same today as in the beginning and in Luther's time. We would call Dr. Powell's attention to his statements and kindly suggest that it would be proper for him to explain his inconsistency.

SWAGAR SHERLEY.

If there is any good reason for a Democrat to vote for Wheeler McGee for Congress instead of Swagar Sherley, we have failed to hear or discover it. No more competent, more diligent, more accommodating man can be found in the Fifth district than Hon. Swagar Sherley. The Democrats did a wise thing when they renominated him for Congress. He is popular here and in Washington not only because of his personal manners, but because of his ability and close attention to business. The people like a man who attends to the business for which he was chosen and who has tact and ability enough to go ahead and get results for the people he serves. Swagar Sherley has proven by experience that he knows what the duties of a Congressman are and he also knows how to get results. His eight years in office have given him complete command of the situation, and if the people of Louisville and Jefferson county want the good work that he has been doing continued they should vote for him on Tuesday, November 8.

THE CAMPAIGN'S END.

This is practically the last day of the campaign. About all has been done that can be done in the way of work, and it now remains to get out the vote. If every Democrat and friend of a clean and upright judiciary will go to the polls next Tuesday, we believe that Judge Shackelford Miller will be our next Appellate Judge, elected by the biggest majority ever recorded in this district. The Democrat who stays away will not add to the uncertainty of his election, but will only reduce the majority. Some men may feel that one vote does not amount to much, but this district has hundreds of precincts, and if half a dozen Democratic voters in each remains at home it means the loss of over a thousand votes and lack of confidence in the strength of the party. Hence the importance of going to the polls and of seeing that your Democratic neighbor goes. In the country and suburban precincts there may be old and decrepit voters who will vote the ticket if they get to the polls, but who have no way of getting there. It is therefore a duty to see that means of conveyance are provided for such. In fact, give this one day to the service of the party, and thus to the service of the country. Vote for Sherley and Miller and you will have fulfilled your duty.

OLD FOGYISM.

The Catholic Sun speaks much truth in saying that when a man or a boy undertakes to do his duty he is oftentimes accused, even by his Catholic companions, of being an old fogy; he is sneered at for being pious; he is jeered at and made fun of. It is especially hard for a young man to be a real follower of the Lord in these days of progress and commercialism. Diversions of every kind there are to distract. The world, the flesh and the devil draw away from sacred things. Still in face of it all, Christ is King and the young man and the old man who persevere are after all the salt of the earth. When death comes—and no one can get away from that—what joy will it be to hear those precious words, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Think about it, boys, when the devil beckons you into sin.

UNDENIABLE.

There is no denying the fact that the cost of living is double what it should be in this country. There is also a great number of unemployed men in the country, who though having earned fairly good wages during the past five years, have been unable to accumulate anything for the proverbial rainy day. Every intelligent person must concede that something must be done to alter these conditions, and we believe the majority of the people are for a change of the national administration.

BE WITH US.

The majority of the Episcopalians are campaigning for the elimination of the term "Protestant" in connection with their church. Why not, asks the Rochester Citizen, eliminate both Protestant and Episcopal, and make a praiseworthy job of it by seeking stability and peace in the one true, holy, apostolic church—whose head is Jesus Christ and whose foundation on earth is the rock of Peter?

Editor O'Mahony and the Indiana Catholic are evidently against the Irish Parliamentary party and the United Irish League, which have bravely struggled for Ireland's freedom from British rule. They have been throwing cold water upon Redmond, Devlin, O'Connor and Boyle, but without any effect. People are wondering why they are following John Devoy, England's best friend upon this side the water.

The Post commends Bob Bingham's extravagant Water Company investigations, that cost the taxpayers about $40,000. And what was discovered? Only that the largest contractors were honestly awarded Louisville firms and business men, who gave the Water Company full value for every dollar received. The last fact hurts the Post, which stands against home contractors and industries.

Singular to relate, every candidate on the Republican ticket for Judge of the Court of Appeals is a renegade Democrat. Isn't this a rather sad commentary on the record of the old-line Republicans, who have been Republicans from principle and have borne the heat and the burden of the day in many a hard fought campaign?

The Herald on Wednesday morning told of an address delivered by Judge Thomas A. Barker, of the Court of Appeals. As the Appellate Judge is Henry S. Barker, and Thomas A. Barker is the Louisville baseball attorney, it is evident that their egotistical sporting editor is at work on the news columns.

A vote for Hon. Swagar Sherley and Judge Shackelford Miller means that you appreciate what they have done for Louisville and Kentucky and that you would like to see the good work continued.

The wall of the Evening Post for campaign funds exposed the cloven hoof. Doomed to defeat, its recklessness now knows no bounds. And this is the sheet that has been making believe it favored good government and honest elections.

Timothy Healy, M. P., who has been opposing the Irish Parliamentary party, has been made a King's Counsel at the English bar. Will the Gaelic American and John Devoy have another fit?

A new City Hospital will benefit the poor, not the rich, and is certainly needed. But it will not be built unless the issue of bonds is voted for.

Happy thought for the day. Next Tuesday's election will hit hard "Uncle Sam's Boys" and the muggumps who would bring religion into politics.

The great need of a new City Hospital is the best argument in its favor.

SADDENED

Were Many Friends by the Death of Mrs. P. J. Hanlon.

Many hearts were saddened when the unexpected death of Mrs. P. J. Hanlon was announced last Saturday. Mrs. Hanlon had been ill only a short time, and in the beginning her ailment did not give cause for undue concern. Several days previous to her demise, however, conditions which were not favorable developed. Brief periods of promise were quickly followed by less assuring indications. The best of medical skill, combined with unceasing and tender trained attention was of no avail. The gentleness and serenity which had characterized her whole life prevailed to the last moment. Mrs. Hanlon was before her marriage Miss Lula Mattingly, daughter of Wallace J. Mattingly, who has been dead several years. Besides her husband she is survived by three children, the youngest but two weeks old. Her mother, Mrs. Emma Mattingly, and a sister, Miss Blanche Mattingly, also survive her. Mrs. Hanlon was possessed of a loveliness and purity of mind that went out to all with whom she came in contact. Her pleasing manners and her gracious personality never failed to win instant admiration. She had a grace and charm that were all her own. Accomplished and cultured in an uncommon degree, she was an adornment to society as well as to her own home. The funeral took place Monday morning from St. Louis Bernand's church, Father Raffo preaching a tender and beautiful sermon.

GREAT SAINT.

Yesterday was the feast of a great saint of the church, Charles Borromeo the Confessor. He was an eminent ecclesiastical reformer, a great philanthropist and a model Bishop. He was associated with his uncle, Pope Plus IV., in administering the affairs of the Holy See, and it fell to him to direct the Council of Trent and enforce the execution of its decrees. He showed his courage and great trust in God by remaining in Milan during the terrible plague of 1576, and he founded schools for the poor, seminaries for clerical students, and the community of Oblates of St. Charles. He died in 1584. He was born at Arona, Italy, in 1538.

DESERVES SUPPORT.

Al Smith, the well known undertaker and former member of the General Council, has been placed before the public by his friends as a candidate for the new School Commission. By education and business training Mr. Smith is in very way qualified for the position and would be a splendid man for the place. His record in the Board of Councilmen stamps him as a man of the highest integrity, and therefore we have no hesitancy of saying he deserves the support of all friends of the public schools.

HER HAPPY DAY.

Last Tuesday was a happy day for Sister Agnita, Superior of St. Catherine School at New Hanover. It marked the silver jubilee of her profession into the Sisters of Loretto. There was a quiet but appropriate celebration of the event, among the participants being the venerable mother of Sister Agnita, who arrived on Sunday from St. Louis. Sister Agnita is well known in Kentucky, and was the recipient of congratulatory messages from former pupils and friends in all sections of the State.

BISHOP LUDDEN VISITS DENVER.

The Right Rev. Patrick A. Ludden, Bishop of Syracuse, has been visiting in Denver, Col., where he has a number of relatives in the order of the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph, among them being Sister M. Stephen, Superior of St. Mary's Hospital, Grand Junction, and Sister Agnes Marie, the Bishop's sister; Sister Winifred, a niece, and Sister Mary Margaret, a cousin. A pleasing feature of Bishop Ludden's visit was the banquet tendered the clergy of the Denver diocese in his honor at St. Joseph's Hospital, presided over by Bishop Matz.

DEDICATION.

The Rev. Father George Weiss and the people of his congregation have about perfected arrangements for the dedication of the new St. George's church on Sunday, November 20. Bishop O'Donoghue will officiate at the ceremonies, which will be beautiful and impressive, and will be assisted by nearly all the local clergy.

SOCIETY.

James K. Shannon has returned from a short stay at West Baden Springs.

Miss Clara Dannenholt has been visiting in Bowling Green, the guest of Miss Alma Klester.

Mrs. Ada Thixton was this week the guest of the Misses Nora and Sallie Hart at Bardstown.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ryan have been enjoying a week of rest and recreation at West Baden Springs.

Miss Mary E. Conley, 2424 West Broadway, spent last week with Miss Katherine Murphy in South Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schulten and son Leo have taken apartments at the Louisville Hotel for the winter.

Mrs. William Tracey, of Kansas City, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pilcher at their home in the Highlands.

Miss Frances Wathen has returned from Ottawa, Can., where she has been visiting Mrs. George Mulligan, formerly of this city.

Miss Mayme Mackey entertained with a linen shower last night in honor of Miss Jewel Lawler, who will be married this month.

Mrs. T. J. Scanlon, who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. Catherine O'Brien, in South Louisville, has returned to her home at Carrollton.

Miss Blanche Carr, of 3116 Bank street, entertained most delightfully at her home Thursday evening in honor of the Waller orchestra.

Aaron Kohn and family, who have been summering at their country residence near St. Matthews, have returned to their home on Third street.

Mrs. Albert Everslage, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seb. Gruber, in Portland, left Wednesday for her home in Indianapolis.

Mrs. John Agan is home from Washington, Ind., where she was called by the illness and death of her aged mother, Mrs. Catherine Graves.

Mrs. Beesie Cronin has returned to her home at Frankfort, after a most enjoyable visit with Mrs. Ed Southworth and family in South Louisville.

Edward Driscoll, of Vicksburg, Miss., arrived last Saturday to spend two weeks with his brother, John Driscoll, and other relatives in Jeffersonville.

William E. Nilest and bride, who was Miss Carrie Schoenmann, are expected home today from the East, where they have been spending their honeymoon.

Dr. Raymond Behrle and bride, who was Miss Lena Orth, are expected home today from the South, where they have been spending their honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kimble, 1763 Wilson avenue, were the recipients of a pleasant surprise from a number of friends, who spent a most enjoyable evening.

Misses Norma Keiran, Hortense Johnson, Enid Youmans and Stella McGrath left Saturday for a trip to Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain and other points of interest in Tennessee.

Joseph L. Doherty, Auditor of the Monon railroad, who has been visiting his sisters, Miss Mary Doherty and Mrs. Edward Fitzpatrick, New Albany, left Tuesday for his home in Chicago.

The young social set at St. Matthews greatly enjoyed the linen shower given Monday afternoon by Miss Alma Bauer in honor of her cousin, Miss Florence Bauer, whose marriage to Ben Traut will soon take place.

Mrs. Joseph Barnwell, always a welcome visitor, has returned to her home at Dayton, Ohio, after spending a week as the guest of her sisters, Misses Jennie and Annie Murphy. While here her friends entertained a number of evenings in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Quinlan, 1005 East Breckinridge, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Rose Quinlan, to Robert B. Stengel, of the stone contracting firm of Urban Stengel & Co. Their marriage will take place this month.

One of the merriest of the Halloween parties Monday night was that entertained by Misses Mary and Anna Grimes at their home, 1810 Portland avenue. The parlors were artistically decorated and old-time games were played, after which all partook of a most palatable luncheon, exquisitely served by the young hostesses.

Mrs. Edward Cowan and daughter, Miss Catherine, who have been spending the past two weeks with the Misses O'Neil on West Breckinridge street, will leave tomorrow for their home in Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Cowan is a native of this city, but for a number of years has resided in Dayton, where her husband has a large tailoring establishment.

Miss Alma Dudley was given a surprise euchre party Monday evening at her home, 1918 Colgan street, that was thoroughly enjoyable. The prizes were captured by Walter Byerly and Miss Alma Dudley and John McGeorge and Mrs. John Dudley. After the games the party sat down to an elegant Dutch supper. Those present were Misses Alice Dudley, Margaret Doyle, Agnes Collins, Hettie Howard, Anna Belle Ryan, Anna Howard; Messrs. Pat Cornady, Lawrence Dudley, Tom Doyle, Walter Byerly, John Dudley, Will Sharp, and Messrs. and Mesdames Byerly, Dudley, McGeorge, Ryan and Howard.

The Anson Athletic Club was delightfully entertained Halloween night at the residence of Phil McGovern, 2813 Bolling avenue. The rooms were tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, vines and lanterns, and after a number of Halloween games all partook of a bounteous luncheon. Among the guests were Misses Rose Peak, May Hussey, Irene and Bina Sohm, Florence Eckhart, Clara May Tabor, Jeannette Sicking, Claudia Honaker, Anna Mary, Margaret and Beatrice McGovern; Messrs. Frank Reclus, Will Hussey, Joe Sohm, John Hagner, Charles Honaker, Arthur Wiegart, John Pato, N. Rhodes, Phil McGovern, Wellington Honaker, Raymond and Sidney Adams, and Mrs. Honaker and Mr. and Mrs. Phil McGovern.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Milwaukee had balloting for forty-four candidates last week.

The Knights of Logansport, Ind., are conducting a billiard tournament.

The second degree was exemplified last week to a class of twenty-seven at Syracuse.

Indianapolis Council closed its October special feature meetings with an entirely novel and unique Halloween celebration.

A new council was instituted last Sunday at St. Peter, Minn. The visiting Knights and their ladies were escorted from the depot to the church by the local militia company.

The sixth initiation at Elwood, Ind., last Sunday was a great one for the order. The ceremonies began at 8 in the morning and dinner and the banquet were served in the church basement.

St. Paul Knights feel keenly the death of Rev. John Dillon, for two years their chaplain and active in all their movements. Father Dillon was a native of Ireland and but thirty-two years old.

Milwaukee Knights will expend $50,000 in improving their new property. Another building, which will include eight or more bowling alleys, a swimming tank, billiard and pool hall, etc., will be erected.

The Knights of Memphis are highly elated over the successful initiation there last Sunday. After conferring the degrees upon the largest class in the history of the council all sat down to a fine banquet.

CHURCHES WERE THRONED.

The Catholic churches were thronged on Tuesday, All Saints' day, and again on Wednesday, All Souls' day. The first was a holy day of obligation. The masses on Wednesday were offered for the repose of the souls of the dead, and during the day thousands visited the cemeteries to again offer prayers for their deceased friends and relatives. The Catholic church appeals to its members to remember their departed in their prayers, that they may be freed from suffering and accepted into heaven, a devotion most beautiful and practiced by it alone.

VISIT FROM STORK.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers, 1925 Bank street, received a visit from the stork early Wednesday morning, leaving another pretty baby to share their wealth and happiness. The proud father, who is on the Evening Times, at once put on a "sub" and has been kept busy since receiving congratulations. The christening will take place on Saturday, November 12, the tenth anniversary of the marriage of the proud parents.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS.

Next Friday night the Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America will meet in monthly session at St. Mary's Hall, Eighth and Grayson. The meeting will be an interesting one, as Michael Reichert and President Eugene McCarthy will announce the Deputies appointed and approved by Supreme President Gaudin. Several important questions will be discussed and arrangements perfected for work among the various branches during the next few months.

KEIRAN—LYNCH.

Mrs. Owen Keiran has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Molly A. Keiran, to Christopher M. Lynch. Miss Keiran has for several years past been prominent in Irish-American and Catholic social circles and is a popular young lady. The wedding will take place the latter part of the month. The groom is to be congratulated upon winning so worthy a bride.

HAPPY UNION.

The bells of St. Patrick's church at Mt. Sterling will ring joyously next Tuesday morning, when with a nuptial mass the Rev. T. J. McCaffrey will unite in the holy bonds of wedlock James Peters and Miss Emma Guilfoyle, two of the best known young people in Montgomery county. Both are prominent socially and the event will be one of much interest.

MACAULEY'S.

"The House Next Door," a refined comedy that rings with laughter from curtain to curtain, presented by J. E. Dodson and a distinguished company, will be Macauley's offering for the first half of next week. Beginning Thursday Marie Tempest will be the attraction, taking the leading role in the beautiful play, "Caste," in which she has developed into the foremost comedienne now appearing.

PORTLAND'S NEW MASCOT.

The Portland baseball club has signed a new mascot for next season, the new recruit having just arrived at the home of Joseph Lally in Glenwood Place, New Albany.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Congratulations are pouring in upon County President Lynch.

Minneapolis Hibernians have a football team that is attracting much attention.

The roll call of the New York county convention showed forty-five divisions represented.

With its vast Irish population New York City has only 6,500 members of the Ancient Order.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will be fully represented to hear Mr. P. H. Callahan tell of his trip to Ireland.

Don't forget that all are invited to the next meeting of Division 1. Make it a big and happy reunion.

Division 4 will meet November 14, and at that time the Literary Committee will have several announcements.

The New York county convention pledged hearty support to the visiting Irish envoys and the cause they represent.

Mobile Hibernians have arranged a rousing reception for Joseph Devlin when he visits their city next Thursday.

Following the election of division officers the County Board will begin active work and expect to surpass all former records.

The meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary was well attended Wednesday night. For them the past year has been a most successful one.

P. J. O'Donnell will lead the Hibernians of Minneapolis for the next two years, having been elected County President for another term.

The calico ball of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Paul was a big hit, and the large crowd in attendance enjoyed the programme from the beginning.

Buffalo Hibernians at their county convention approved with pride and satisfaction the pledge-bound Irish Parliamentary party and its leader, John Redmond.

Including the property at One Hundred and Sixteenth street and Fifth avenue, estimated at $200,000, the total assets of the order in New York county are $222,800.

Having served eight years, County President McCormick of Buffalo, asked that the convention retire him. Just before leaving the chair he was presented with a handsome gold watch, suitably inscribed.

The fact that this year two members will be chosen for the Amusement Committee will lend added interest to the elections to be held the first meeting in December by the eight Indianapolis divisions.

A splendid public reception was given the Minnesota State officers-elect at Duluth. Right Rev. James McGillick was present and spoke eloquently on the influence of the order in promoting education and religion in America. In concluding he presented State President Ryan with a specially bound autograph volume in green and gold of the life of St. Patrick.

YOUNG LIFE ENDED.

The Angel of Death entered the home of Frank E. Mivelaz, 2218 West Broadway, Tuesday morning and took from the loving father and mother their eight-year-old son, Charles Francis Mivelaz.

The funeral took place Wednesday, when the mortal remains were tenderly laid to rest in a flower covered grave in St. Louis cemetery.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

Lovers of high class vaudeville and good comedy will be delighted with next week's offerings at Hopkins' Theater. The various numbers are both lively and new and full of fun and interest. Those who will appear are well equipped with good voices, pleasing personalities and magnetic manners. Some new pictures will be shown and the programme will be changed on Thursday.

ARCHBISHOP FARLEY ILL.

Archbishop Farley, since the consecration of St. Patrick's Cathedral, has suffered from a slight nervous breakdown, and on the advice of his physician has gone on a three weeks' tour of the West and South. During his absence the affairs of the archdiocese are in charge of Auxiliary Bishop Cusack.

FORTY HOURS' PRAYER.

Tomorrow at the high mass the Forty Hours' devotion will begin at St. Charles Borromeo church, and will continue until Tuesday. Father Raffo will be assisted by a number of priests of the city.

WONDERFUL IF PERFECTED.

Rev. Father Adrain d'Antonio, a Franciscan of the Province of Abruzzi, has quite recently placed before the Minister of Industries in Italy the scheme of an automatic apparatus, designed to prevent a head-on collision between two trains.

BREATHE DEEPLY.

A simple way to get warm after exposure to cold is to take a long breath with the mouth firmly shut. Repeat this several times, until you begin to feel the heat returning. It requires a very short time to do this. The long breath quickens the pulse and thus causes the blood to circulate faster. The blood flows into all parts of the veins and arteries and gives out a great deal of heat. It is stated that this method of deep breathing prevents colds and a great many other ailments if begun in time.

CAKE HINT.

LIGHTED CANDLES

Are Significant of Christ, the Light of the World.

Frequently non-Catholics ask why lighted candles are used in Catholic churches and what they signify. The following most appropriate answer was prepared by a well known priest writer, and should be preserved by our Catholic readers:

Candles when lighted express joy. God ordered brazen candelabra to be placed in the Ark of the Covenant. There were certainly candles or olive oil lamps used at the Last Supper, for it took place in the night when the Passover Lamb was always eaten. When the early Christians who took refuge in the catacombs—passages and rooms excavated underground—lights were not only used for religious manifestations but from necessity. When the church came forth from these underground refuges the lights were still used, but not from necessity. They were kept as reminders of the days of persecution and for symbolical reasons. Lighted candles were significant of Christ, the Light of the World. Christ dispelled the darkness that enveloped the world by his revelations and doctrines. Darkness is a synonym for ignorance. By the teachings of our Lord on his origin and final destiny the ignorance of men was scattered and their minds illuminated.

The lighted candle is an emblem of faith which throws light upon what concerns us most seriously, its flame which always ascends is a symbol of hope directing our desires and aspirations toward heaven. The heat of the lighted candle expresses the fire and warmth of Christ's charity. Hence the lighted candle viewed in its symbolical sense, by reminding us of Christ, draws us closer to Him in thought and teaches us a larger and practical appreciation of his mission, and imparts us a truer view of the chief virtues that should adorn our souls. Again, the candle is the emblem of a Christian's life and duty. As the candle is wholly consumed in God's service, so each man should from baptism until death be consumed in serving God. Hence candles are truly useful as manifestations of our inward emotions and virtues and serve us as teachers of important truths.

By the death of James McKell, which occurred at a brief illness from pneumonia, Portadown has lost one of its most estimable citizens. He was one of the original founders of the old library and reading room.

The house of a farmer named Fitzpatrick, near Kilkenny, was attacked by several shots being fired in through the windows. No damage is reported beyond the breaking of some glass in the windows, and no arrests have as yet been made.

At a meeting of the Naas Urban Council it was decided to close the library for the present, owing to an epidemic of scarlatina in the town. It was also ordered that all books which are out be disinfected. In taking this precaution the Naas Urban Council is in advance of more pretentious public bodies.

Rev. Father Doyle of Mooncoin, has received a letter confirming the settlement arrived at between himself and the representatives of the tenants on the Newman estate at Aghish recently. The terms are eighteen and three-fourths years' purchase with the abolition of all costs.

THURSDAY WEDDING.

Thursday morning a wedding of interest in German-American Catholic social circles will be solemnized at a nuptial mass at St. Boniface church at 8:30 o'clock. The contracting parties are Miss Frances Dressel and Henry Kerger. Both have a wide circle of friends and acquaintances and are receiving many congratulations upon their approaching union.

MOTION PICTURES.

Patrons of the Casino and Orpheum moving picture theaters will find a treat in store for next week. Several thrilling spectacles will be flashed, and they are heralded as the most clever of the present season. There will be the usual changes and new illustrated songs. The comedy films show several interesting and amusing novelties.

AVENUE THEATER.

For next week the Avenue Theater offering will be McFadden's Flats, presented by a big and competent company. As it is now produced it is altogether different from the original, having been almost entirely rewritten and all the objectionable features eliminated.

LIKE THE REST.

Let us weep. The brethren of the Junior Order in Pennsylvania are in rebellion. If they should split there would be absolutely no hope for the country. They are the patriots and preservers par excellence—we don't think.

CHEAP GINGER BREAD.

One cup sugar, one cup syrup, one cup sour milk, three tablespoons melted lard or butter, four cups sifted flour, one scant teaspoon ginger, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon cinnamon, pinch cloves, one cup chopped raisins, one scant teaspoon soda. In the flour put ginger, baking powder, cinnamon, cloves. Have sugar in mixing bowl, turn on the syrup, put soda in sour milk, put into sugar and syrup, then the melted butter or lard, flour the raisins, turn in and beat thoroughly. Bake until successfully tried with a straw.

ESCALLOPED POTATOES.

Pare and slice thin one quart of potatoes; put layer of potatoes in baking dish, seasoning with pepper and salt. Repeat this until all the potatoes are used. Then take milk, one egg, and flapping tablespoonful of flour, beat all together, pour over potatoes and cut thin slices of bacon and put on top of potatoes. Put in oven and bake until brown.

TRY THIS PIE.

One cupful cooked carrots mashed fine, one-half cupful of sugar, two eggs, one pint of milk, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, one-half teaspoonful of ginger, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon. Bake in one crust. It is better than pumpkin pie.

...NOTICE...

To the Voters of Louisville:

You are asked, regardless of party affiliations, to vote for the issue of bonds for the new hospital at the coming election.

The undersigned commission, composed of two Democrats and two Republicans, will have sole charge of the building and equipment of the hospital, and will receive and disburse all funds derived from the sale of the bonds, if voted.

We pledge our best endeavors toward giving you a modern, up-to-date hospital, which will put Louisville on a par with other cities of her class in the matter of caring for the sick poor, whose welfare has been heretofore sadly neglected, by reason of a hospital building our citizens should be ashamed to be longer responsible for.

Will you help the good cause by your votes and assistance and indicate the same on the coupon below, which should be mailed to Thomas D. Osborne, Room 312 Columbia Building.

LADIES' SHOWER

For St. Ann's New Rectory and Father Hill.

What promises to be one of the season's most enjoyable and commendable events will be the miscellaneous shower to be given next Thursday afternoon and evening by the ladies of St. Ann's parish for the new rectory and its zealous pastor, the Rev. Father Hill. St. Ann's is the baby parish of the diocese, and since having been placed in charge Father Hill has done wonderful work and overcome many obstacles. The new rectory is about completed and Father Hill is now residing there, and it is the purpose of the good ladies of the parish to furnish it in a manner suitable for a priest of God. Those who reside outside the parish will find the new place well worth a visit. The ladies of the congregation invite their friends throughout the city to be with them next Thursday at 1607 Seventh street, where the shower will take place. There will be room for all and everybody will be welcome.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

New Form of Entertainment For Joint Meeting.

Trinity Council will entertain at its club house on Baxter avenue Monday night with a joint meeting, the guests being the members of Mackin and Unity Councils. The programme will be an interesting one and will be entirely different from any witnessed at former joint meetings, with an abundance of refreshments. President Ecker and his committee have been planning for this event for some weeks and will have some enjoyable surprises. The meeting Monday night was well attended and interesting and much business was transacted. President Ecker announced that on November 14 there would be a mock trial for the entertainment of the members, and that on the Thursday following Trinity Council would give its annual fall euchre and dance, for which there will be many handsome prizes. Extensive preparations are being made for a big initiation on the last Monday of this month, when Trinity's membership will be greatly increased. For this event a side degree is being rehearsed by the team that will exemplify the initiatory ceremony, and it is said to be much better than any ever before produced here. Trinity is filling a long-felt want in the Highlands and is growing in popularity with the young men of the eastern section of the city.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

William M. Bohon is announced in the Kentucky Irish American as a candidate for the School Commission created by act of the last Legislature. This commission will be composed of five members and will supersede the present School Board. Mr. Bohon is one of the best known and most popular men in Louisville. Beginning life as a printer, he has occupied many positions of trust, all of which he has filled with distinction. His employment has brought him into contact with the business men of Louisville, and they are supporting him in his candidacy, having proof of his honesty and ability. Mr. Bohon was recently elected a member of the School Board to fill a vacancy. He has acquainted himself with the needs of the public schools, and deals with the important questions involved in their management in a thorough and business-like way. Mr. Bohon is liberal in his views and is the very type of man that should be chosen.

VICTIM OF CANCER.

Gus T. O'Leary, thirty-three years of age, a highly respected citizen of Shelbyville and one of the best known traveling men in the State, died Monday at his home after a lingering illness of cancer, and though expected the news of his death cast a pall of gloom over the entire community. Gus O'Leary was popular with all classes and was connected with all ventures for the advancement of his home city. He was a member of the United Commercial Travelers and Louisville Council of the Knights of Columbus, which was largely represented at the funeral. Besides his wife, who was Miss Emma Kaltenbacher, of Shelbyville, he is survived by two sons, Dominick and Bernard O'Leary, and several brothers and sisters. The funeral took place Wednesday morning, the Rev. John Riley being the celebrant of the solemn mass of requiem. In his sermon upon death he made feeling allusion to the loss Shelbyville had sustained.

FANCY DRESS.

The Columbia Athletic Club has disposed of many tickets and looks forward to a big turnout of its friends Monday night at Germania Hall, when the much talked about fancy dress ball will take place. The committee that made the arrangements is composed of the following gentlemen: William Abel, George Mueller, J. Habenstein, H. Metten, W. Bronger, C. Zehe, Edward Brueggemann, William Nussbaum, William Larkins, Joe Kraemer and John Reiss.

STUDENTS WILL CONVEKE.

The Board of Directors of the Catholic University Association, Washington, D. C., have taken the first step for the convention of the Catholic Students Association of America. It will be held at the University of Minnesota November 17, 18 and 19. Twenty chapters of the association will be represented and new applications for membership from other States will be considered, including the universities of North and South Dakota. The association was organized in 1908 at Lafayette, Ind., for the purpose of uniting Catholic university clubs and keeping in touch with one another.

RECENT DEATHS.

Death has called two highly esteemed members of St. Martin's parish, August Neuberger, a well known tailor, and Mrs. Katherine Krebs, the aged mother of Mrs. Frank Keichner. Their funerals took place from St. Martin's, the interment being in St. Michael's cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Connell, of 2839 Slevin street, are mourning the death of their little two-year-old daughter, Louise Elva, who succumbed to an attack of croup and diphtheria. She was an unusually bright child, and for the bereaved parents there is profound sympathy. Mr. Connell is Assistant Superintendent of the Standard Manufacturing Company.

St. Patrick's parish has lost one of its most respected members in the person of Mrs. Mary Ryan, the aged mother of John J. Ryan, and Miss B. A. Ryan, whose death occurred Wednesday morning at her residence, 1855 High avenue. Her death came as a distinct loss to her friends, who testified their love in floral tributes and attendance at the funeral, which took place Friday morning from St. Patrick's church.

HOLY ROSARY ACADEMY.

On Saturday, November 19, at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Father Clarke, Prior of St. Louis Bertrand's convent, will lecture at the Holy Rosary Academy on Ormsby avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets, on his recent trip through Canada and his impressions of the Eucharistic Congress. The lecture will be under the auspices of Sister Francesca and the alumnae. A delightful musical programme has been arranged, and the friends and patrons of the academy are invited.

MAHER--SHEA.

The marriage of Capt. Thomas Maher, ex-Chief of Detectives, and Miss Rose Shea, well known through her connection with the Blind Asylum, will take place Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Francis of Rome church. Rev. Thomas White will perform the ceremony, which will be witnessed by a large gathering of friends of the contracting parties. Capt. Maher and bride will take an extended wedding trip, returning about December 1.

AGED WOMAN'S FALL.

Mrs. Mary Callahan, the venerable mother of Lieut. Edward Callahan, of the Second police district, fell at her home one day last week and broke her left hip. Not until the first of this week was the extent of her injury realized, and then her condition became alarming. At last accounts she was resting easily, but owing to her extreme age her recovery will be slow.

HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY.

Last Friday in all the Catholic churches of Philadelphia special masses were celebrated in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the consecration of Right Rev. Michael Egan, O. S. F., who was the first Bishop of the Philadelphia diocese.

IDEAL CRIB

Will Be Placed in St. Michael's Church Before Holidays.

For the first time in the forty-four years of the history of St. Michael's church, Brook street, there will be this coming Christmas a new crib, the gift of Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. Tompkins, as a memorial to their mother, lately deceased. The statuary, which will be very fine, has been ordered through the Rogers Book Company. The crib itself will be six feet in length and five in height. In design it will come nearer to an ideal crib than any yet seen in this city. The roof will be thatched as was the stable in Jerusalem, and its novelty will make it attractive. A great many worshippers will be expected to visit this crib during the Christmas holidays. Father O'Connor is justly proud of this latest addition to the church, which has been greatly beautified this year.

DIGNITARIES

Will Attend Catholic Federation at New Orleans.

Apostolic Delegate Falconi will be among the distinguished visitors at the ninth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, which begins at New Orleans November 13. This announcement was made by Anthony Maitre, National Secretary of the organization. Other guests will be Archbishops Messmer of Milwaukee, O'Connell of Boston and Blenk of New Orleans; Bishops James A. McPaul of Trenton, N. J., Regis Canevin of Pittsburgh, Heslin of Natchez, Miss., and Shaw of San Antonio, Texas. The convention will represent more than 3,000,000 American Catholics. It will be presided over by Edward Feeney, of Brooklyn. For a year the Catholics and citizens of New Orleans have been making preparations for this convention, which will be in session for three days. The Knights of Columbus, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Catholic Knights of America, in fact all the societies, will assist in entertaining and making pleasant and profitable the stay of the delegates and visitors. On Tuesday, November 15, there will be a mass meeting, which will be addressed by members of Congress and leading men of the country. Dr. Felix Gaudin, who is well known in Louisville, heads the Executive Committee arranging for the convention.

JOLLY PARTY.

Mrs. Peter Richard and daughters, Misses Anna and Frances Richard, entertained the Whirligig Club with a jolly Halloween party Monday night at their home on the North Side, New Albany. The house was artistically decorated in the club colors, green and gold, and pumpkins, lanterns and ghosts adorned the lawn. Halloween games of every description and dancing and euchre were enjoyed by the guests, after which a tempting luncheon was served. The prizes were awarded to Misses Frances Richard and Nellie Cook and Andrew Hoppenjohn and Raymond Gohman. Those present were Misses Addie Hirt, Anna Richard, Grace Herley, Kathryn Raaba, Gertrude Herley, Eva Smith, Nellie Cook, Frances Richard, Jane Houghton, Mae Nagel, Mary Korb, Lillian Richard, Edith Hirt, Mary Margaret Ringenberg, Kathryn Smith; Messrs. Joe Schuler, John Bueche, Andrew Hoppenjohn, Frank Richard, Mike Garing, Walter Perry, John Ramaler, Joseph Nolda, Raymond Gohman, John McGuire, George Cook, Melvin Clark, Karl Enslinger, Maurice Richard, Will Friedman; Messrs. and Mesdames Philip Hirt, Frank Enslinger, Adolph Ringenberg, Ralph McDaniel, Peter Richard, John J. Richard and Will Judd.

LOSES OLDEST CITIZEN.

James O'Neil, the oldest citizen of Lexington, passed peacefully into eternity at his home there Monday night. The deceased was born in Ireland ninety-three years ago, but for seventy years had been a resident of the Bluegrass capital, living in the house in which he died for nearly half a century. He was the father of the late Rev. J. J. and Frank O'Neil, who died several years ago, and is survived by one daughter, Miss Susan O'Neil.

BLESSING OF GRAVES.

Tomorrow afternoon the old but beautiful custom of visiting the cemetery and praying for the dead will be observed at St. Michael's, Texas and Coes avenue. The flower-laden graves will be blessed, and on each one is a lighted candle, special prayers are read and hymns are chanted. This form of commemoration is practiced almost everywhere in German Catholic circles. The Rev. L. C. Ohle, pastor of St. Martin's, will conduct the ceremonies. There will be a solemn procession of more than 4,000 people in the graveyard.

VISITED PARENTS.

Rev. Father James Gregoire, who was a New Albany boy but is now assistant rector at St. Francis Xavier Cathedral at Vincennes, has returned to his charge after spending a brief but most enjoyable vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gregoire, West Market street. Father Gregoire is always a welcome visitor to the Falls City.

BURIAL AT AURORA.

The remains of Mrs. Sarah Ryan, whose death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Malone, 226 West Sixth street, were taken Saturday to Aurora, Ind., her former home, where the funeral services and burial took place. Mrs. Ryan was seventy years old and was one of the oldest and most respected residents of Aurora. Two years ago she came to New Albany to live with her daughter.

FIVE TO BE ELECTED--CITY AT LARGE.

Ten Good Reasons For Voting For Candidates on Citizens' Ticket.

- 1--Because by their election we can rescue our public schools from political influences.
- 2--Because the candidates are all men of good standing and have clean records.
- 3--Because they are not seeking the office themselves, but were chosen for their qualifications.
- 4--Because they did not nominate themselves, but consented to serve as a public duty.
- 5--Because they were carefully selected by committees from all our leading organizations.
- 6--Because they represent different political parties and religious beliefs and different sections of the city.
- 7--Because their election will break the power of the professional politician in our public schools.
- 8--Because by electing these candidates the members of the Board of Education will not be of any one political party, religious belief or from any one section of the city.
- 9--Because the candidates on the Citizens' ticket are pledged to reforms in the public school system which are badly needed.
- 10--Because the organizations which selected them will watch them closely and require the fulfillment of their obligations.
